

BrieflyWomen Of Achievement
accepting nominations

The deadline for nominations for the 37th Women of Achievement Awards, co-sponsored by the Suburban Journals and KMOX Radio, is Feb. 28.

The awards are given annually to women who have made a commitment to serve the communities in the St.

Louis area and whose efforts have improved the quality of life for those around them.

A committee of community leaders and former WOA winners will choose the 1991 award winners.

Nominations for the 1991 competition should be addressed to: Women of Achievement Committee, c/o Suburban Journals, P.O. Box 411215, St. Louis, Mo. 63141.

The nominations should include the nominee's full name, address and telephone number along with information on her achievements, support letters and name, address and telephone number of the person making the nomination.

Career planning program

The Granite City Campus of Belleville Area College, 4950 Maryville Road, will host a "Career Planning Program," a two-part seminar Thursday, Feb. 20, from 6 to 9 p.m. and Thursday, March 19, from 6 to 8 p.m. It will be held in Room 104 of the first of a series of "Seminars for Success."

There is a $7 fee for the program.

Program coordinator Pat Lurtz said the first evening will be a comprehensive assessment of career interests, abilities and experiences. The second session will interpret and review the assessment.

All of the workshops are open to the public. For more information or to obtain information may call the Center for Student Development at 931-0600 or, toll-free, (800) BAC-5131, extension 441.

Inside

Larry Mosby endured a nightmare a few weeks ago when he missed three straight free throws in a junior varsity overtime loss to Alton. But the Warriors' sophomore point guard will have a happy pleasure and dream now after hitting the winning basket with two seconds left in Granite City's 59-57 win at Belleville West on Friday. The win was Granite City's fourth straight and lifted them into a tie for second in the Southwestern Conference.

'Sweep' removes drug dealers

By Mike Myers
Staff writer

Mass drug arrests Thursday have left street corners in Venice and Madison without their usual number of "self-employed street vendors."

A "sweep" operation, coordinated by the Department of Criminal Investigation of the Illinois State Police, resulted in the arrests of 17 adults and two juveniles.

The arrests followed a four-month undercover investigation involving purchases of "crack" cocaine by agents of DCI and the Metropolitan Enforcement Group of Southwestern Illinois.

"These were all street dealers of crack cocaine," said Lt. Wayne Watson of the DCI.

"They were very bold and often operated in the open. The problem was that it is a very close-knit community. You couldn't just send in officers from Venice and Madison because the dealers would know them. That's why it took outside help."

Because his officers are known, Venice Police Chief James Bennett said, "Basically, all we could do was chase them off the corners."

"Sometimes we might get lucky and chase one or two down and then they're 'dirty.' But we couldn't set up to buy or anything."

Watson said he had no doubts that it was possibile for residents and police to watch the dealers work and know what was going on.

But Watson said, "Knowing and proving in court are two different things."

Watson stressed that, while those arrested Thursday were "just street dealers," DCI and MEGSI are continuing to operate undercover in the area.

"Maybe next time it will be the next level we go after," Watson said.

The arrests may slow the drug dealers down, Bennett said. "And if you go out there today you're not going to see very many people hanging

Her past experience has given Sue Skoklo a special understanding of day care facilities and their importance to families. She has put that knowledge to good use as an in-home day care provider.

Skoklo, 36, has been the owner/operator of Skoklo Day Care, located at Fourth Street and Highland Avenue in Madison, since December 1987. She has served 23 families in the last four years, and currently has seven children in her care.

On Jan. 29, following a series of examinations, inspections and on-site observations, the National Association for the Education of Young Children named Skoklo as a Child Development Associate, the highest certification awarded for a family day care center.

She says her background — one of nine children and a single mother — has given her a special understanding of the children who attend her day care center, and their parents.

"After my divorce, I was a single mother when my child was 10 months old, and had to go back to work. I really couldn't be with him until I opened my day care center."

Dennis E. DeLuca was sentenced Friday to two years in prison as a participant in the mail-order scheme with DeLuca. He was fined $1,000 and ordered to serve four years of probation upon his release.

Dant, 32, pleaded guilty to conspiracy in possession of drug seeds and admitted to the government that he provided seeds to DeLuca and expertise in growing marijuana.

DeLuca, 43, pleaded guilty in October to conspiracy to distribute marijuana and to distribute marijuana with intent to distribute marijuana. He could have been sentenced up to 97 months in prison and fined up to $2 million.

"I apologize to the government for all the time and money I have cost them and to my family for all the hurt and embarrassment I have caused them," DeLuca said before his sentence was handed down by U.S. District Judge William H. Higginson in federal court in East St. Louis.

Manslaughter charged in shooting

A Madison man has been charged with involuntary manslaughter in connection with the Dec. 3 shooting death of his cousin at Garrett's Lounge in Madison.

On Thursday, a Madison County grand jury indicted Algie Ingram, 20, of the 900 block of Webster Street on the charge. Ingram's cousin, Demetrious

James Dant, formerly of Madison, was sentenced Friday to two years in prison as a participant in the mail-order scheme with DeLuca. He was fined $1,000 and ordered to serve four years of probation upon his release.

Dant, 32, pleaded guilty to conspiracy in possession of drug seeds and admitted to the government that he provided seeds to DeLuca and expertise in growing marijuana.

Dancer Dunham
fasts for Haitians

By Bonita Tillman
Staff writer

Katherine Dunham sat atop her bed in East St. Louis Thursday expressing her concern about the state of affairs in Haiti. In other words, and her dismay that the United States is not taking a more active role in supporting residents there.

"I'm disappointed in the president and I don't see how he can get up and talk to the United Nations about the need to become a leader of democracy in the world and draw the Haitians back," said Dunham, the grand lady of dance.

Dunham, 82, has maintained a home in Haiti for nearly 50 years. She was in her 13th day of a hunger strike to protest the U.S. policy against the Haitians. She said she will continue as long as it takes.

"I haven't felt hungry but tired because I have visitors all day," she said. "So many people feel indignant but they don't know what to do. I don't have to have people fast with me, but jump on the Side of the Hill."

Dunham, who created her own dance technique after her travels in the West Indies, came to East St. Louis in the 60s to help quell youth violence during the wave of the civil rights movement. She organized youth and directed their energies to positive activities and greater education.

Her work lead to the creation of a museum of artifacts from her travels and dance performances, a dance troupe at Southern Illinois University's East St. Louis Center and a children's dance work-

St. Louis actress Grace Monroe, portraying Harriet Tubman, will highlight Venice School District activities celebrating Black History Month.

Tubman, an outspoken black woman, was looked upon as a hero of her time, Venice Superintendent of Schools John C. Gandy said.

"She was the founder of the 'underground railroad' that helped the slaves in transport from the South to the North," Gandy said.

Monroe will give a short portrayal in each grade school classroom, school officials said.

An activity called "Color Day" will be held on Monday, Feb. 17. Kindergartners through 12th grade students will be asked to wear African clothing and/or colors — red, green, black and yellow — to school in support of the Black History Month observance, Gandy said.

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville dancers will perform at 1:15 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 20, in the grade school gymnasium. They will be joined by a number of Venice students who perform with a dance group in East St. Louis, Gandy said.

Black History Month activities will also include musical entertainment when the Summer High School chorus of St. Louis visits Venice at 1:15 p.m. Monday, Feb. 24, in the grade school gymnasium. Students of all grades will be invited to the Man is booked for resisting arrest

A Venice officer scuffed Feb. 4 with a man who allegedly refused to be handcuffed after being placed under arrest.

Officer Carroll Patterson said he knew the suspect, Miguel L. Pacheco, 20, of the 800 block of Bissell Street was wanted on a warrant.

The suspect allegedly resisted, causing both to fall to the ground. Patterson suffered a sprained shoulder and his departmental gloves were damaged.

After being restrained, Pacheco was booked for criminal damage to property and resisting arrest.

families. "We've been able to meet the needs of the people so far. But at this rate, is there going to be any money left in December?" Streiler asked.

Fire officials say the overall number of fires is not rising dramatically in this area, but that there could be a rise in home fire losses.

Due to an increase in disasters in recent years, the Red Cross started a disaster action team in March 1991. Thirty-five families and 120 people were aided with $16,000 worth of food, clothing and shelter.

The team consists of trained Red Cross volunteers who, with their personally-owned vehicles, respond to disaster sites. The disasters in most cases are fires that have displaced individuals from their homes.

Many members of the disaster action team have police scanners in their homes or cars to aid them in knowing where a disaster has taken place, Streiler said.

"The main thing is to find out where the individuals who have just faced a disaster, or have lost their homes, want to go and what they need," Streiler said.

Some of those who are aided after fire are on Public Aid or are just above subsistence, "from poor to middle class," he said.

About 99 percent of those aided have no insurance, he said.

"Most of these fires are from electrical problems, from poor wiring in older houses, there's not always an electrical circuit," Streiler said. "In many cases, the individuals have a troubled financial situation."

A fire on Monday in the 1700 block of Edison Avenue displaced three people from their home.

The family, consisting of Mario Cochran and his two children, lived in a first-floor apartment of the two-story building. They escaped the fire without injury.

The disaster team was on the scene and offered help to the family.

"We offered food and clothing aid and also the possibility of helping the family rebuild if they want to do that," Streiler said. "In this case, we helped to resupply Mrs. Cochran with some prescription medicine that was lost in the fire."

On Jan. 29, four families were forced out of their homes in the 1800 block of State Street because of an electrical fire. The disaster team was there with an emergency allocation of $3,000 and provided assistance with food and clothing.

A recent fire in Pontoon Beach displaced six persons. Their mobile home was destroyed and the family did not have insurance. The disaster action team provided food, clothes and shelter.

The disaster team was on the no" opponents for the greater rate shock for customers.

Beaman insisted it was inevitable state law that the Clinton cost would eventually be included in the rates but opponents "dug in their heels."

The ICC had allowed Clinton to be incorporated in rates only in plain language in the 1987 order that only 27 percent of the plant was then "used and useful," raising that to 61 percent in the 1990 rate case and incorporating the rest in its 9.1 percent rate boost last week.

The total cost of Clinton was about $4.2 billion, but about $800 million was written off by the Illinois Power Cooperative. Also, the ICC penalized Illinois Power for construction mismanagement and disallowed about $600 million in costs from being passed on to ratepayers. That leaves about $2.8 billion of Clinton costs now in the company's rate base.

Bush urged to aid rural economy

U.S. Rep. Richard J. Durbin, D-Springfield, has joined with 15 of his colleagues in the House of Representatives in calling on President Bush to convene a rural economic summit.

In a letter to Bush, the lawmakers urged him to call a meeting of members of Congress, administration officials and agricultural leaders to develop a plan to "restore economic health to America's heartland."

"Rural America is losing more and more young people, who move to cities in search of new opportunities and better paying jobs," Durbin said. "Many of these young people would prefer to stay in rural areas but simply can't afford to."

"As legislators whose constituents are rural family farmers, small, ten business owners and working men and women of rural America, we are writing to you today to express our deep concern about the economic future of our region," the lawmakers said in the letter. "We write with a strong sense of urgency that action must be taken now to address the economic status of people in the Midwest and Great Plains."

The letter says the collapse of grain prices is the main culprit in rural America's economic troubles, but cited overly optimistic economic projections for agriculture by the U.S. Department of Agriculture made matters worse.

"The economic problems of rural America must be solved entirely by the federal government, but current federal farm policies are clearly not working. Unless and until the federal government provides the leadership in creating an agriculture policy that moves farm prices about the cost of production, economic vitality in rural America will only worsen."

Groundwater

program Tuesday

A program on "Groundwater and Agriculture Awareness" will be held from 10 a.m. to 2:45 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 11, at the Farm Bureau auditorium in Edwardsville.

The program is sponsored by the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service and the Madison County Farm Bureau.

The morning program will cover four topics: the Groundwater Situation in Madison County with Steven Wilson, hydrologist; Illinois State Water Survey; Groundwater and Pesticides with Bill Simmons, U of Illinois Soil and Water specialist; "illing Abandoned Wells" with Mike Headford, Geological Department; and Computer Program for Keeping Chemical Records with Debra Horton, market representative, Illinois Farm Bureau Computer.

The afternoon program will include: Water Testing — Where and How, with Dave Reynolds of the Centralia Diagnostic Laboratory; Denim Business of the Madison County Environmental Department; What is the Chemical Industry Doing in the '90s to Protect Groundwater? with Tom Hodges, Monsanto Chemical Co.; and Bedrock and Above-Ground Storage Tanks, State and Federal Regulations, with a speaker from the Farm Service.

Lunch will be provided at no cost by the Madison County Farm Bureau.

For additional information on the program, persons may contact the Madison/St. Clair Extension Unit office at 656-5000.

Road rules class

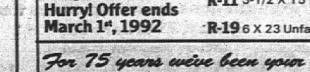

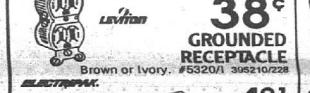

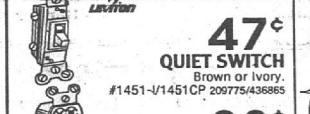

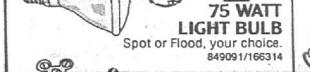

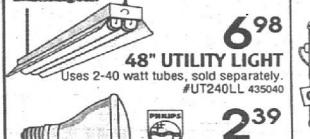

Secretary of State George H. Ryan, in cooperation with the Granite City Council of Senior Citizens, is offering a "Rules of the Road" review course Wednesday for all citizens in the Granite City area.

U.S. proposal aims at puppy mill operators

By Angie Cairns
Staff writer

A new bill before Congress — the Puppy Protection Act — would bring financial repercussions for puppy mill operators.

Two women were able to dodge charges in connection with a puppy mill in Caseyville in January. The proposed legislation could help provide a monetary consequence for such operations.

The Puppy Protection Act has been co-signed by U.S. Reps. Richard Gephardt, D-Missouri, and Jerry Costello, D-Belleville. It was originally sponsored by the Humane Society of the United States. Ledy Van Kavage, president of the Madison County Humane Society, said:

The two women were arrested in January for selling dogs without a license in the parking lot of an Illinois restaurant. Forty-eight dogs were later confiscated from a mobile home in Caseyville where the women had been staying.

The charge was a misdemeanor.

High-speed rail bill is signed

State Sen. Frank G. Watson's bill promoting development of high-speed rail systems in Illinois has been signed by Gov. Jim Edgar.

Watson, R-Greenville, said the bill is a first step that can lead to faster interstate and intra-state transportation.

"This new law simply allows the Illinois Department of Transportation to enter into agreements with other states or private sponsors wanting to establish fast rail systems," Watson said.

"For example, Illinois and Missouri might explore the feasibility of a system through our area to connect Chicago and St. Louis.

or and Patricia Fitch and Theresa Davis, who are sisters, were able to post bond. They then left the area, according to law enforcement officials.

Fitch, from Indiana, is suspected of having run similar puppy mill operations in Indiana and Kentucky.

"For these people to walk away from this is just ludicrous," Van Kavage said.

Van Kavage said that almost all the confiscated puppies were adopted. Some of the dogs and cats from the Caseyville mill were also adopted, for a total of 35 dogs and 10 cats.

Eighteen of the 48 dogs died from the puppy mill either from disease or from being put to sleep due to the conditions they were living in at the mill, Van Kavage said.

If passed, the Puppy Protection Act would allow pet owners to receive monetary awards from the animal dealer or receive a new pet if certain conditions applied.

Among these conditions: death of an animal within 14 days of purchase; confirmation within one year that the animal was not the breed advertised; determination by a veterinarian within a two-year period that the animal had a congenital or hereditary

"It's been phenomenal ... the response of the people has been phenomenal," she said. "We've never done that many adoptions in a day."

During the adoption session on Feb. 8, other dogs and cats from the Humane Society were also adopted, for a total of 35 dogs and 10 cats.

Eighteen of the 48 dogs died from the puppy mill either from disease or from being put to sleep due to the conditions they were living in at the mill, Van Kavage said.

If passed, the Puppy Protection Act would allow pet owners to receive monetary awards from the animal dealer or receive a new pet if certain conditions applied.

Among these conditions: death of an animal within 14 days of purchase; confirmation within one year that the animal was not the breed advertised; determination by a veterinarian within a two-year period that the animal had a congenital or hereditary disease. If any of these conditions were found to apply, the proposed law would require that an owner could be awarded payment for veterinary expenses, equivalent to three times the price of the animal, exchange the pet or receive a simple refund, Van Kavage said.

Especially because of the recent puppy mill operation in Caseyville, Van Kavage is happy to see the proposed bill.

"With the Puppy Protection Act, at least there will be some way to attack puppy mills monetarily," she said.

Discussion set on minorities, leadership

Lucille Walton, vice president of field operations for the Urban League, will conduct a Feb. 18 Student Leadership Development Program (SLDP) module at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The SLDP module about "Leadership Challenges for minorities" is scheduled for 2:30 p.m. in the Mississippi-Illinois Room of SIUE's University Center.

Modules are conducted at 2:30 and 7 p.m. Tuesdays during each academic quarter. Walton's module is part of SIUE's Black History Month activities and is sponsored by SIUE's Student Program Board.

Now in its fifth year on the SIUE campus, the SLDP has three components — leadership modules, which offer discussion with university faculty and officials and community leaders; an active citizenship component, which is project-oriented; and a university and community service component, which is largely service-oriented.

Those who complete two parts of the three-part program receive an SLDP transcript for presentation to potential employers.

Participants in Walton's module will explore specific challenges faced by leaders from minority groups. Topics to be discussed will include internal and external factors that create an impact on minority leadership goal-setting and attainment, and the value of networking.

Walton is secretary of Confluence St. Louis and vice president of the Kinloch Housing Authority.

She is also a member of the St. Louis Convention Partnership Program, the Metropolitan St. Louis AIDS Task Force, the Federal Emergency Management Agency, the steering committee of the North County Services Coalition, the PTA of Holy Angels School, and is a former member of the Board of Freeholders.

Also on Feb. 18, Bob Clipper, a manager and founder of Associated Counseling, will conduct a 7 p.m. module about "Conflict Resolution: Negotiating Differences" in the Mississippi-Illinois Room.

For more information about the modules or about the leadership program, call SIUE's Kimmel Leadership Center at 692-2686.

CUB hearing set for Wednesday in Collinsville on phone bill proposal

Metro East consumers concerned about rising local phone rates are being urged to attend a public hearing, sponsored by the Citizens Union Board, Wednesday, Feb. 19 in Collinsville.

The hearing, set for 7 p.m. at the Collinsville Memorial Library, 408 W. Main, will give consumers a chance to air their views on the proposal to raise local phone bills. State legislators from the area, who must vote on the measure by May 15, have been invited to the meeting.

The legislation, being pushed by Illinois Bell and other companies, would make it easier for phone companies to raise rates, even if consumers don't support the proposal. Proponents of the bill worked behind the scenes last fall trying to pass the measure, but lawmakers put the plan on hold until the spring.

CUB has asked the legislature to establish a citizens task force to study whether changes to the state's phone laws are needed. Since lawmakers have failed to respond to that request, CUB has slated community forums throughout the state to give consumers a chance to air their views on the proposal directly to lawmakers.

CUB Executive Director Patrick Harvey urged consumers who are concerned about higher phone bills to attend the forum and express their views.

"It's time to bring the debate on the phone rates of the last rooms so that lawmakers understand clearly what's at stake," Harvey said.

The meeting is free and open to the public.

Charles Scherrer of Belleville adds liquid smoke to one of the half-dozen model trains displayed at the International Holiday Festival.

International Festival hailed as success

Participants and beneficiaries of Belleville Area College's first International Holiday Festival said the event was an unqualified success.

"I heard nothing but positive comments about what a great family event it was and how much people enjoyed it," said Barbara Cumpera, executive director of Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Southern Illinois, one of the event's beneficiaries.

Cumpera said special events like the Dec. 15 International Holiday Festival raise about 70 percent of her group's annual budget.

The holiday festival raised about $1,700 for Big Brothers/Big Sisters and BAC's GED study program.

"The assistance of the staff and teachers at the event helped make that possible," said Marisa Giordano, director of BAC's Business and Professional.

"Everyone lent a hand when it was needed," said William Marsden, BAC's director of marketing services.

The event, featuring an array of international entertainment, attracted about 2,500 people.

"It was a great opportunity for the community to experience a variety of cultural aspects of the holiday season," said Diane Paeth, director of college activities. "It went very well."

"Co-sponsors helped attract the number of people that made it a real success for Big Brothers/Big Sisters and the GED program," said Marsden.

Once at BAC, participants found a huge model train display, a variety of international foods to sample, holiday crafts being demonstrated, and a petting zoo and storytelling for kids.

Prize distribution was made possible by the generosity of 48 businesses and agencies.

Donors included:

Anheuser Busch Co.; Belleville Bowling and Sport Shop; Belleville Rock Club; Party Brutus; Bicycle World Inc.; Blanquart's Jewelers; Bob's Floral Shop; Brenden's Billiard Center.

Briner's Restaurant; Dill's Fresh Haven; Domenico's Eckert Orchards; Endres Bicycle Sales; Fischer's Restaurant; Four Seasons Florist; The Fun Spot Skating Center; Grimm and Sons; Kress; Kress and Betty's Mexican Restaurant.

The event's success prompted immediate planning for next year's festival. "We already have the facilities reserved for next year," Paeth said.

Injured state trooper receives honor

Illinois State Police Trooper Michael Hartmann, 29, of Alton, who was wounded in a Jan. 26 shootout on Illinois 159, in view of Heights, has received one of the department's highest honors, the Purple Heart.

The award was presented to Hartmann recently by Illinois State Police Director Terrence W. Gainer at Memorial Hospital in Belleville, where Hartmann was recuperating. He has since been dismissed.

"Trooper Hartmann displayed the highest degree of courage in the worst situation imaginable for any law enforcement officer, having a routine traffic stop turn into a gun battle," Gainer said.

Although wounded in the ambush, Trooper Hartmann was able to make his way back to his car and radio for help while returning fire and wounding his assailant.

"On behalf of the men and women of the Illinois State Police, it gives me great pride to present the Purple Heart to Trooper Hartmann. 'We not only praise his actions, but are very thankful that he is expected to fully recover from his injuries.'

Hartmann was struck after stopping a vehicle driven by 30-year-old Christopher Dale Sprinkel of Mechanicsburg, Va.

As Hartmann approached the vehicle, Sprinkel pulled out of his driver's window and fired a shot from approximately six feet away that struck Hartmann in the chest.

Hartmann was wearing a bullet-proof vest, but the bullet entered his chest through a seam in the vest.

Hartmann is in his third year with the Illinois State Police and is the seventh recipient of the Purple Heart since its inception in 1990.

The award is given to sworn

Illinois State Police personnel who, while in the performance of enforcement duties, are injured while encountering deadly force.

Teen-agers learn valuable lesson: driving, drinking don't mix

By Bob Slatte
Staff writer

More than 150 Metro East students learned some important lessons Friday about drinking and driving.

The students participated in the seventh annual St. Clair County Students Against Driving Drunk (SADD) Awareness Conference, held at Mascoutah High School.

Students observed four different presentations, all with a substance abuse resistance message.

Sgt. Dave Jung of the Illinois State Police told the participants some of the legal consequences of drinking and driving. Mike Connolly of St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Belleville told how alcohol advertising influences teens.

Chris Cadeil and Lynn Haden from Perfect Fitness Health Club in Fairview Heights presented martial arts as an alternative to substance abuse and gang violence. And Patti Warner from Mothers Against Drunk Driving (MADD) led a victim impact panel discussion relating personal tragedies resulting from drunken driving.

Jung told students some facts about the law they were probably not aware of, and encouraged them to "consider carefully" before hosting a party while parents are away.

This is an instance where the vehicle code provides that you are your brother's keeper.

or identification card. "That one act could keep you from getting your driver's license for years," Jung said.

Connolly showed a series of television alcohol commercials, saying that some create "cute" characters to appeal to a crowd not yet able to purchase alcohol legally. He said the commercials typically send unhelpful messages regarding men's and women's roles in society.

One of the ads conveyed the underlying message that all that is really needed for a successful date is alcohol.

"Most of these commercials are a real put-down to women, depicting them as sex objects and defining their role only as they relate to and satisfy the needs of men," Connolly said.

"Each man in most of the advertisements had two or three beautiful women of his very own, conveying to men the message that drinking is a "macho" thing to do," Connolly said.

But society is fighting back against the alcohol industry, Connolly said. He said a lawsuit is currently pending against a beer manufacturer, claiming that the depiction of a biker team on an ad has resulted in sexual harassment in the workplace. Some companies are now emphasizing responsible drinking habits in their ads, Connolly said.

Through a student participation exercise, Cadeil and Haden presented martial arts as an alternative to substance abuse and violence.

They demonstrated how martial arts can be a self-discovery process, forcing the participants to become aware of their strengths as well as limitations.

Student volunteers were asked to perform a progression of moves with a simulated weapon. Confusion reigned as the students began the exercise. But as they gained confidence and competence through repetition, they said they felt a sense of accomplishment and pride.

Cadeil said his discipline emphasizes the preservation of life.

"It is so easy to take away life, but impossible to replace it," Cadeil told the participants.

A panel of victims told students first-hand stories depicting the tragedy that can result from driving under the influence of alcohol.

Students from Lebanon, Freeburg, Marissa, Red Bud, Dupo, Columbia, Cahokia and Mascoutah Schools participated in the conference, sponsored by St. Clair County, Rainey, Illinois Superintendents of Schools, Mascoutah SADD, Red Bud Positive Action Counseling for Teens, St. Clair County MADD, Illinois Department of Transportation, and Belleville Mental Health.

Journalism scholarships

Applications now are being distributed for scholarships awarded through the Journalism Foundation of Metropolitan St. Louis, foundation chairman Patrick E. Gauvin said.

In 1991, the Journalism Foundation presented scholarships and grants worth more than $30,000 to 19 college students in journalism and related courses of study.

The scholarship program is open to students who live in the St. Louis metropolitan area, including the Illinois counties of Madison, Monroe, St. Clair, Bond and Clinton.

Students must be enrolled for the 1992 fall term in journalism, mass communications or writing courses and be completing their sophomore, junior or senior year or attending graduate school.

The applications can be obtained through area colleges' financial aid offices, departments of journalism, English or communications or mass media or communications programs. The deadline for submitting applications and supporting materials is Friday, March 20.

Additional information is available from the Journalism Foundation's scholarship coordinator, Joseph Kenny, who may be reached at the St. Louis Review, 462 N. Taylor Ave., St. Louis, Mo. 63108, or by phone at

Scholarship recipients are chosen on the basis of aptitude, interest in pursuing a journalism or communications career, academic standing and financial need.

The scholarships are presented at the Journalism Foundation's annual banquet and are offered in cooperation with the St. Louis Press Club, the St. Louis Chapters of the Society of Professional Journalists, the National Association of Business Communicators, Baseball Writers Association, Public Relations Society of America and the Greater St. Louis Association of Black Journalists.

Barbara Riggs

Barnie (Barney) Riggs, 55, of New St. Louis County, formerly of Granite City, died at 1:15 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 12, 1992, during open heart surgery at Christian Northeast Hospital, St. Louis, where she had been a patient one week.

Mrs. Riggs was born March 8, 1936, in Gideon, Mo. She was a former real estate agent for Gundel's Better Homes and Gardens in St. Louis and was the Catholic faith.

Survivors include her husband, Buddy E. Riggs; two sons, Edwin and David; one daughter, Linda Riggs of St. Louis; her mother, Gladys Barnes of St. Louis; two sisters, Mildred "Midge" McKee of Washington state and Faye DeGroat of St. Louis; and three grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by her father and by one sister, Elizabeth Lacey.

Visitation will be from 2 to 8 p.m. today (Sunday) at Calvin Peutz Funeral Home, 9480 Lewis and Clark Blvd., St. Louis. A funeral Mass will be celebrated at 10:30 a.m. Saturday at St. Alphonsus Church, 1010 W. 10th Armor Road in Spanish Lake, Mo. Burial will be at Bethel Cemetery on Bellefontaine Road, St. Louis.

Memorials are suggested for the Diabetes Association.

Steve Ontko

Steve Ontko, 66, of Edwardsville died at 7:25 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 12, 1992, at Anderson Hospital in Maryville.

Mr. Ontko was born Sept. 11, 1925, in Edwardsville. He was an electrician for 42 years with Hopcroft Electric in Glen Carbon Crossing, retiring in 1988.

He was a member of the Edwardsville YMCA, Edwardsville Masonic Lodge 99, Edwardsville Eastern Star Chapter 667, Edwardsville Moose Lodge 1561, Knights of Columbus 101, Zeehan Shrine, Society of America Lodge 26 of Edwardsville and the Lake of Egypt Association at Eagle Point Inn in Goshen, Ill.

Survivors include his wife, Besse, a beloved son from whom he married July 12, 1947; one brother, Carl Ontko of Rochester Hills, Mich.; one sister, Margaret Noeth of Granite City; eight nieces and seven nephews.

He was preceded in death by his parents, Steve and Josephine (Slemmer) Ontko, and one sister, Alvina Siedlacek.

Funeral services were held Saturday at Materne Funeral Home, Edwardsville, with the Rev. Herbert Steiner officiating. Burial was at Valley View Cemetery in Goshen.

Memorials are suggested for the American Heart Association.

UPS promotes Tim Thompson

Tim Thompson, an industrial engineering supervisor for United Parcel Service, has been promoted to center manager.

Thompson has been a UPS employee for 14 years and most recently served as an industrial engineering supervisor on special assignment at UPS's Massapequa hub in New York. His new responsibilities include managing the employees at UPS's facility in Jacksonville.

Thompson and his wife, Susan, live in Granite City.

Insurance agents receive awards

Granite City State Farm insurance agents Bob Diak, Charlotte Charbonnier, Joseph Hassler and William Frazier were honored recently by Region 1 Vice President Charles Wright at a meeting held in the new Illinois Regional Office building of State Farm in Bloomington.

These awards, the Legion of Honor Award, the Bronze Tablet and Silver Scroll, are designed to reward agents who exemplify State Farm's commitment to policyholders.

The Legion of Honor Award is presented to State Farm agents who have attained sales goals for 1991, maintained and serviced existing customers in accordance with established operating standards.

This is the second time Bob Diak has been a recipient of the Legion of Honor Award.

The Bronze Tablet Award is presented to State Farm agents who, for five consecutive years, have attained sales goals, maintained and serviced existing customers in accordance with established operating standards. This is the first time Charbonnier and Hassler have been recipients of the Bronze Tablet Award.

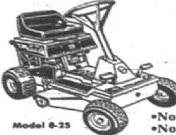

Frazier received the Silver Scroll Award for the third time. It is presented to agents who, for 10 consecutive years, have attained sales goals, maintained and serviced existing customers in accordance with State Farm's high standards of service, and positioned their agencies within established operating standards.

Cost of romance rises with the times

By Roger McGrath
Correspondent

Valentine's Day might have been a little sweeter on your wallet this year: Many local purveyors of items romantic report they didn't increase prices over their 1991 levels.

True, some prices are higher, but only modestly so, other retailers say.

Still others, in a nod to the recession, trimmed prices to attract this year's Valentine's Day business.

Those price movements are consistent with the current low-rate of inflation, say economics professors Rick Chaney, of Saint Louis University, and Maurice Minks, of the University of Missouri-St. Louis. Consumer prices climbed 3.1 percent last year.

Stover adds these cautionary words about prices a year from now: The U.S. economy is biased toward inflation, the general increase in the overall level of prices. Given that, climbing prices "are inevitable," he says.

In the case of diamonds, prices are up about 25 percent over 1991, says Jerry Chotin, of Kawan Chotin Inc., a downtown jeweler.

Contrary to popular mythology, Valentine's Day isn't a big-volume day for jewelers, he adds.

Day gifts, perhaps the priciest items this year are paperback romance novels. At $5 to $6, they are up 15 to 20 cents since last Valentine's Day, according to a spokeswoman for Chapter One, a South Side bookstore.

The good news for starry-eyed romantics is that, even in inflationary times, the ever-prize is destined to climb, says Chaney, the SLU professor. Indeed, the pocketbooks of romantics have benefitted from that phenomenon in recent years.

One-piece teddies, a women's garment that's a popular purchase among men, cost $20 to $50, the same as last year, says Tracy Ray,

Mosby's shot at :02 sinks West

By Dave Whaley
Staff writer

Leroy Samuels was kidding when he said he taught Larry Mosby the move he made at Belleville West late Friday evening. It was obvious. It was a move that can't be taught.

Mosby, the Warriors' 5-8 sophomore point guard, floated between two Maroon defenders and lofted a running 10-footer with 1.2 seconds left. Granite City stunned the home team 59-57. The Warriors shot into a tie for second place in the Southwestern Conference with the Maroons at 6-2 and improved to 16-7 overall with their fourth straight win. West fell to 6-2, 13-8.

"I taught him that move," said Samuels, like Mosby a sophomore who cracked the starting lineup recently.

"He's lying," said a smiling Mosby, who had nine points.

The Warriors had tied the game at 5-5 last by forcing Marshall (20 points) with 55 seconds left. The Maroons worked for the last shot, and Steve Ross took it from beyond the three-point arc with 10 seconds left.

Michael Dochwat of the Warriors moves away from a defender.

Brian Smith, the Warriors' 6-9 forward, corralled the rebound and quickly hit Mosby with an outlet pass up the middle.

Mosby took off with Ross and Sean Keefe with him. At the free throw line he went up and some... (See MOSBY, Page 5B)

7 Warrior wrestlers advance to semis

The Warrior wrestling team batted over .500 on Friday. In the team's 12 sectionals, qualifiers survived preliminary rounds of the Granite City Sectional and were set to compete in Saturday's semifinals. Those seven, 103-pounder Pat Siefert, 119-pounder Ryan Kish, 125-pounder Jason Moenien, 130-pounder Dan Hicks, 145-pounder Jerry Heubschman, 189-pounder Jeff Heubschman and heavyweight Al Willardt — needed to win only one of two matches Saturday to advance to next week's sectional tournament.

Five other Warriors — 112-pounder T.J. Slay, 135-pounder Mark McKeahan, 140-pounder Chris Hoffstetler, 160-pounder Scott Simon and 171-pounder Andy Richards — did not advance to the semis. But Granite City was still the leader among area schools. There will be 39 wrestlers (the top three in each weight class) advancing from the sectional to Saturday.

Edwardsville advanced five wrestlers to the semifinals. Cahokia advanced four and East St. Louis Lincoln sent three.

The sectional continued at noon and 5 p.m. Saturday. Complete results will appear in Wednesday's Journal.

Henson, Davis among soccer signees

By Dave Whaley
Staff writer

The Warrior soccer team didn't achieve its ultimate goal last fall, but the seniors are moving on in life.

Most of them will play college soccer, including all-state goalie Tim Henson and all-sectional forward Eric Davis. Both of them signed NCAC Division I letters of intent this week—Henson with Quincy (Ill.) College and Davis with Western Illinois University.

"I've been much more set on Quincy for a while," said Henson, who was an all-state two straight years. "It's not too big and it's not too small. It's also not far off of a drive."

Henson was also recruited by Drake University and the University of Connecticut, and also a little from Wisconsin-Milwaukee. He will play for Jack MacKenzie at Quincy.

Davis' soccer goals for the Warriors last year and one of the quickest players in the area. He had considered Wisconsin-Parkside, but decided to continue to the Granite City-Madison pipeline. He will join former Warriors Jim McKeehan and Dan Terrell at WIU.

Garland credits numerous influences

By Mike Kelly
Staff writer

Mike Garland is basking in the limelight these days.

In five years, he's brought the Warrior wrestling program to the head of the class. Granite City (24-1) ranked No. 1 in the Journal coaches poll, has its first undefeated season since 1973 and the regional championship since 1986.

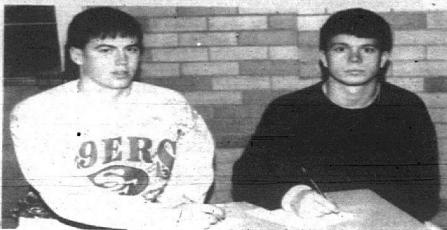

But Garland (94-30-1 career record in dual meets) isn't slapping himself on the back.

"The kids are responsible for this," he said. "They deserve all the credit. They've worked hard and made numerous sacrifices in the last five years. My joy has been watching them be so successful."

The right connections carried Garland through the ranks.

"I've been blessed by a lot of influential people in my life," he said. "Roger Smith, my sixth-grade physical education teacher, got me started in wrestling. Peter Robertson and Dick Huff started me in a lot of tournaments."

He was also blessed with good coaching. Garland wrestled for and later served as an assistant coach for the legendary Schmitt in high school. He also wrestled for Larry Kristoff at SIUE (1972-74) and was Walt

Tim Henson (left) and Eric Davis sign on the dotted line. "I didn't see anything there I didn't like," said Davis. "It's nice to be there with guys I know."

The WIU coach is John McKenzie (no relation to the Journal coach).

In addition to the former Warriors, several other area players are either considering or have signed with WIU. That includes Jay Ross of Edwardsville, Mike Verning of Collinsville and Mike Taylor of O'Fallon.

Other Warriors announcing college plans include defender Curt Keeler (Quincy), goalie Chad Toeniskoetter (BAC) and defender Andy Jenkins (Missouri-Rolla). Others still waiting to make it official are Mark McKeegan and Matt Custer (MacKeehan) and Collin Barnes (McKendree), Josh Houston (Culver-Stockton), Josh Neidhardt (Greenville College) and Ryan Repp (Washington University or Northeast Missouri).

Girls basketball regionals ready to start

By Mark David Major
Correspondent

Collinsville completed an impressive regular season on Thursday by beating the Trojettes 69-37 in Madison. Meanwhile, the Lady Warriors closed their regular season with a 75-35 win over Jerseyville.

Granite City will take a 13- record into Monday's 7:30 p.m. regional opener at Belleville East. Madison will take a 3-15 record into the regional on Saturday at 1 p.m. Monday at Alton Marquette against Dupo. The Tigelettes closed out their regular season with a win over previously unbeaten Jerseyville Christian on St. Louis this week.

"I'm extremely pleased with the season," CHS coach Paul Harrington said. "Madison's been there for three years ago in rebuilding their program. We took our lumps and stuck together."

"Collinsville is good," said Madison coach John Wells, whose team fell to 15-10. "They have a very good team, but Collinsville always has a good team when tournament time comes."

Collinsville started the game

GCHS baseball alumni night set for May 15

The Granite City School Board on Tuesday approved a night for an alumni baseball night to be held May 15.

Warrior baseball coach Bob Stegemeyer is on the Baseball Alumni Night Committee along with Mike Chastain, Greg Patton, Roger Beisbe and Dave Dombek. Varsity Field will be the site. The evening will start with a home run contest at 7 p.m. for all GCHS baseball alumni from the 1930s through 1990s who lettered as a senior.

At 6:30, there will be a game featuring players from the 1940s, '50s and '60s, with a special format allowing everyone to participate. Registration is required. For more information or a registration form, write to Granite City Baseball Alumni Committee, P.O. Box 973, Granite City, Ill., 62040. Include name, address, telephone number and year of graduation.

BrieflyMarriage seminar Feb. 19

Family Enrichment Seminars, a ministry dedicated to uplifting and stabilizing family life in the St. Louis area, presents the annual "Marriage Can Be Fun!" seminar.

This seminar is composed of 12 tuition free, 90-minute sessions. Topics to be discussed this year will include:

- What it is — and what it's not
- Mate selection — "Did I pick the right one?"
- Self-Esteem in Marriage
- The effects of children
- Roles in marriage — "Who's the Boss?"
- Stress: how it affects us
- Communications — "I can't talk about it"
- How fighting can save your marriage
- Sex — Is sexy sinful?
- Divorce and remarriage

The 1992 "Marriage Can Be Fun!" seminar will convene in the fellowship hall of the Pontoon Beach Church of Christ, 4039 Pontoon Beach Road, just off of Main Street from Ralph and Charlie's Restaurant in Pontoon Beach.

The first session begins at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 19, and is followed by eleven more sessions through May 13 at 6:30 p.m.

To register for the Family Enrichment Seminar call 931-1317.

Delta Kappa Gamma meets

Alpha Eta Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma Society International met Feb. 1 at St. Elizabeth Medical Center in Granite City. Members donated books to the Pediatrics Department.

The program was given by Joan Roberts, assistant director of Volunteer Services at St. Elizabeth's. Nancy Owens narrated a slide presentation of the programs available at the Wellness Center and directed a tour of the facilities.

The business meeting was conducted by President Linda McDonnell.

Young at Heart meet

The Young at Heart Senior Citizens' Club held its meeting on Jan. 20.

"Happy birthday" was sung to Vincie Zerlin and Sheila Thebeau.

Attendance prizes were given to: Mary Bazarich, Sophie Crider, Janet Oberle, Vincie Zerlin, Marnie Boyer, Elizabeth McCoy, Bertha Szedlar, Ann Bicanic, Helen Harshany and Irene Kaderlik.

Plans are being made to have a corned beef and cabbage dinner at the March meeting.

The guest for the evening was Sister Mary Alice, who spoke on adult education classes to be held at Holy Family Church.

WCTU welcomes new members

The January meeting of the Granite City Woman's Christian Temperance Union was held Jan. 25 at the home of Virgie Settle.

The group welcomed two people to become members of the WCTU: Vera Lynn and her husband, Paul Lynn, who became an Honorary member.

The WCTU is a family oriented organization which has a place for all members of the family: children, youth and adults.

The business meeting was conducted by the local president, Doris Brown. Brown also gave the lesson. Plans were discussed concerning going to the Detention Home in Edwardsville to provide a film and refreshment. The WCTU has done this for the past few years.

State officers attending were: Helen Collins, state Madam president; Rock Falls; Shirley Curry, state vice president; Lincoln; Betty Wendling, state captain; Galesburg; Betty Rohr, past state president; state membership chairman; Quincy; Mary Stogner, past state president, Collinsville; Helen Meyers, state outside chairman; Rock Falls; Shirley Clegg, state Southern Zone trustee; Florida; Betty Mates, state Heart Fund chairman; Galesburg; Angie Buehler, state mother, mother and child; Past state enrollment chairman; Benton; Ruth Brown, state Cancer Fund chairman; Waukegan; Carolyn Crum, state Central Zone trustee; Perry; Shirley Warfield, past state president; Galesburg; Kathy Dullea, junior past state president; Shiloh; Ruth Jorgenson, state Golden Eagle chairman; Shirley Eiler, state Eleanor Everingham state co-chairwoman of the Aerie Cancer Fund; Helen Rin; Hazel McCormick, "No Goose Egg" chairman; Alton; Lucile Smith, state Educational Fund trustee; Alton; and Marilyn Olsen, state Kidney Fund chairman, Belleville.

State President Helen Collins was selected to the altar by conductor Barbara Modrusic and presented with a gift by Deloney from the Granite City Auxiliary. State officers and guests were also invited to the altar and presented with gifts.

The meeting was opened by the following officers from Granite City: Del Deloney, President; Linda Ferris, Vice President; President; Barbara Spencer, vice president; Helen Lipchik, chaplain; and Barbara Modrusic, conductor. The meeting was then opened to the state officers and their team, as follows: President Lucile Smith, Alton; Junior past President Kathy Dullea, Shiloh; Vice President Elaine Jagla; Captain Helen Lipchik, Granite City; and Captain Angie Buehler, Granite City; Mary Stogner, Collinsville was the captain of the ritual team.

Candidates initiated were Linda Ferris, Carol Peterson, Shirley Gann and Beverly Burns, all of Granite City.

Collins was the guest speaker and spoke on various items of interest to the members. Other guests and chairmen also spoke on their charity.

Local member Katie Kostoff was honored for signing up nine members this year.

Deacon's panel plans luncheon

The Deacons Committee of the First Presbyterian Church, 160 DuBois Ave., met Feb. 3 in the Fellowship Hall.

Barbara Landis, chairperson for the group, asked the committee for their reports.

Evangelism and Outreach chairperson Jim Hearn discussed his goals for the group: Increase the church membership, support of the Phoenix Crisis Center, prepare church members and visitors to locate motels and KOA and purchase new shirts and balls for the church softball team.

Fellowship and Care chairperson Betty Trotter informed the group of a soup and sandwich luncheon following the Wednesday, March 18, worship service. There is an open invitation for everyone in the community to join in this service and enjoy the lunch.

Service Committee chairperson Zig Konieczny gave the status of the Telephone Assurance Committee. Lewis Eberle presented the schedule for church ushers for the upcoming year and presented the list.

Dr. Lewis Trotter, minister of the church, distributed a Church Prayer Calendar to the group. This calendar will remind everyone to pray for church leaders.

The meeting ended with a prayer presented by Dr. Trotter.

Storytime sessions at library

A new series of storytime sessions is being held in the Granite City Public Library District through May 6.

The program is offered every Wednesday at both the main and branch libraries.

Parents can bring their children to either the 10:30 a.m.

storytime at the main library, 200 N. Delaney, or on the 3:30 p.m. storytime at the branch library, 2145 Johnson Road.

Each session consists of 40 minutes of stories, songs, games and crafts intended for children three to six years old. Children of other ages who can listen to a story without interruption are also welcome to attend.

Storytime provides children with exposure to good children's literature and the experience of being with other children the same age.

To obtain additional information, call 452-6338 or 452-6244.

KMOV's 'Vision of St. Louis' promotion prompts curiosity

By Ian MacBryde
Correspondent

The mystery of the week in local television belongs to KMOV-TV (Channel 4). It's not a program — or, if it is, it's a very short program. It's something called "The Vision of St. Louis."

It's a spot featuring what apparently are local people. They are shown in pairs and groups. Apparently, they are police personnel, college students and a family group, among others, and a narrator indicates that "Together" will reveal the vision of St. Louis.

The spot has the feel of the initial move in a sophisticated public relations campaign. But no one in a position of authority at the station is willing to talk about the spot, apparently in an effort to preserve the suspense of the build-up.

The announcer on the spot has a tag-line: "Just wait." I expect that is what we will all do. I admit it: I'm hooked.

Winter Olympics

Early impressions of the Winter Olympics as presented by CBS:

Fascinating scenery, but the action is slow. You have to wait with the advantage of several hours to prepare a program consisting largely of taped highlights, that CBS would be able to assemble more action from.

The pieces on the individual athletes — their lives, their cultures, their aspirations — are generally well done.

Tim McCarver seems a little lost.

Of course, the highlights for so far have been the Charles of the Alpines.

The public release suffers from a lot of bad puns, ("bait's a trap"), an attorney named "Sarkis," and a boy who says he's a "big fan" of the program.

The publicity says that the dragon, "Sorch," comes "with an attitude." How did we guess that?

The other series is "Fish Police" (7:30 p.m. Feb. 28). It's billed as an animated comedy-mystery series about the adventures of a metropolitan police force and its efforts to bring peace to the underwater Fish City.

with a single father and his daughter in contemporary New Haven, Conn. Father and dragon get a job doing the cleaner on TV.

much of a catch (darn it, there it goes again).

It isn't going to set the local radio market on its ear, but the folks who run KWMMU-FM (91.1), the non-commercial University of Illinois at St. Louis, are pre-pinned with the record Arbitron ratings. The station is credited with 5,500 "average quarter-hour" listeners — a 53 percent increase from a year earlier.
